

COMBINING THE HBDI® & OTHER TOOLS FOR GREATER INSIGHT

You're more than a personality!

COMPLEMENTS, NOT COMPETITORS

The HBDI® and Whole Brain® Model works equally well as a standalone solution as it does as an entry point for more in-depth work around specific need areas.

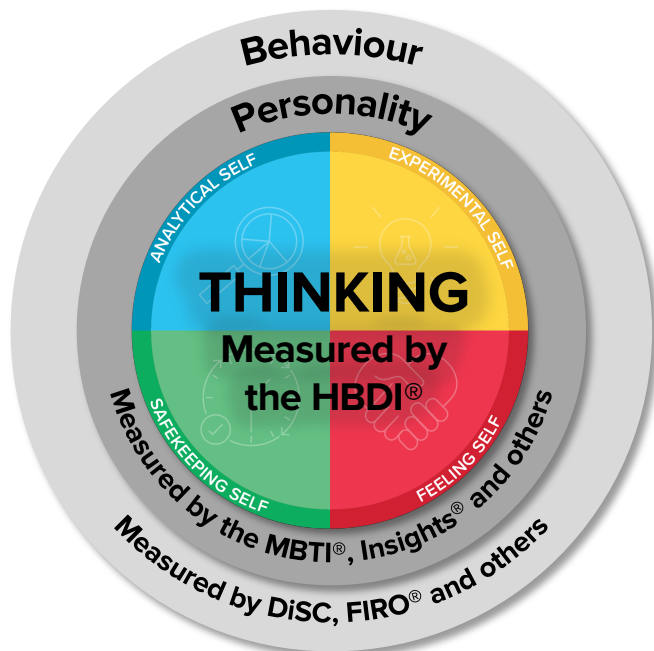

Because thinking is at the core of our intelligence, behavior, and personality, it can serve as a powerful foundation for additional introspection and can be elegantly paired with a variety of other instruments.

Your Whole Brain® Catalyst explains...

HBDI® & MBTI®

While the two employee assessments measure different things (thinking vs. personality), many companies choose to pair them because thinking and personality are so connected.

The beauty of these assessments is one informs the other, and people can easily see the similarities in how they think and how they behave. If you have already rolled out the MBTI®, you can introduce the HBDI® to explore what's behind those behaviors — the person's thinking preferences. They work well together when that relationship between thinking and behavior is clearly explained.

THE DIFFERENT LAYERS OF THE SELF

HBDI® & DiSC

Because DiSC is often a lightweight experience, you may have already used it for short-term, tactical communication or team building efforts.

But what if you are working on a more strategic initiative, the sort of critical applications that are the “sweet spot” for Whole Brain® Thinking and the HBDI®? Can the HBDI® and DiSC coexist?

Absolutely. Participants who've already taken DiSC are very quick to pick up the HBDI® and begin making their own comparisons, finding value in the distinctions. Participants can connect the dots between their thinking and behaviour, to understand what can be done for greater impact.

Click below to read more about using HBDI® with other assessments

HBDI® and MBTI®

HBDI® and DiSC